Crocheron & Bishops Head – Past and Present, Lynne Mills, 7 March 2012

Lynne Mills, a native of Dorchester County, presented her memories of the social and educational life in Crocheron and Bishops Head in South Dorchester County. The talk touched on a little bit of history of the two communities and included some stories from the country stores and recollections of family members from the early 1900's forward as well as her own observations. Her presentation was punctuated with supportive comments from the audience.
