

DVD Number 86

Dorchester's 1st Fatality of World War I, by David Owens, 3 February 2010

There stands a tall monument in Greenlawn Cemetery on Hudson Road (Rt 343) just outside Cambridge, Maryland. Those who see it wonder about the meaning of the broken column and who is buried there. Learn about Roscoe C. Leonard, Dorchester's first fatality of WW I and the monument built in his memory.